The Socio-Emotional Lives of Pre-Schoolers

Date: March 18, 2010

Time: 6:00—8:30 PM

Location: Crocker Farm School

Presented by: Dr. Emily Gonzalez & Dr. Francis Kelly

Children's emotional worlds are best conceptualized as a dynamic interplay of complex affective, cognitive, temperamental, biological, environmental, and cultural factors. Using this multidimensional model as our educational framework, this presentation will review the current literature on current empirically-supported practices in psychological assessment and intervention for pre-school aged children presenting with behavioral and emotional difficulties.

Please RSVP to Sharon Gross at GrossS@arps.org if you are interested in attending.
